C B Circular No. 14/94

TO: ALL COMMERCIAL BANKS

Dear Sirs

RE: FOREIGN CURRENCY EXPOSURE

You are hereby notified that the Bank of Zambia has determined that the maximum mismatch between a bank's total foreign assets and liabilities should be equivalent to 25 percent of the bank's capital and reserves. So, with effect from 31st December, 1994, all commercial banks will be required to observe, with regard to their foreign currency exposure, open position limits equivalent to not more than 25 percent of their total capital and reserves.

Following the liberalization of the economy and the lifting of exchange control regulations, commercial banks are now undertaking more business denominated in foreign currencies. In addition, the introduction of a market determined exchange rate has increased the susceptibility of banks' exposure to foreign currency risk. The risk of the relative values of currencies changing could lead to exchange losses for the banks concerned. Therefore banks have to watch closely the mismatch between foreign assets and foreign liabilities.

Commercial banks will be required to report at the end of each calendar month their foreign currency exposure on the attached return FMX3. The report should reach the Director, Bank Supervision, by the 10th day of the following month.

This return does not replace Forms FMX1 and FMX2. These two daily returns shall continue to be submitted in their present format except for some minor changes. On Form FMX1, forwards, options and futures will have to be shown separately from other purchases and sales. On Form FMX2 applicable exchange rates will not only be confined to cash transactions as has been the case hitherto.

There may well be exposures outstanding on the books of some commercial banks after 31st December which exceed the 25 percent limit. Banks which expect to have such an exposure should seek permission from the Bank of Zambia by writing to the Director, Bank Supervision Department, not later than 20th December 1994, setting
